COUNTY AGENT EXPLAINS NEW SOCIAL SECURITY LAW

Beginning January 1, you will have another essential reason for careful record keeping. To determine your benefits under the revised Social Security law passed by the last Congress, you'll need good records of your farm income.
More than 5½ million farmers and hired hands will come under Social Security protection for the first time next year. Coverage is compulsory. Your first payment in the amount of 3 per cent on your 1955 net income (up to $4,200 per year) will be due in April 1956 and payable along with your income tax. The income tax form for farmers will have a space for reporting your own Social Security payment.
Mr. James W. Dinwiddie, of the Social Security office in Lynchburg will speak to a meeting of farmers in the Court House on Thursday, December 16, at 7:30 P. M., to explain the Social Security set-up as it applies to farmers. Anyone interested is invited to attend.
R. B. Hudgins,
County Agent.
